

Workshop

On the diachrony of causal clauses

at the 24th International Conference on Historical Linguistics
Australian National University, Canberra, Australia

Workshop schedule Monday, July 1st, 2019

Convenors: Constanze Fleczonek (Leibniz University Hannover)
Łukasz Jędrzejowski (University of Cologne)

9:00-10:00	Plenary
10:05-10:35	Tea break
Session I – Chair: Łukasz Jędrzejowski
10:40-11:10	Introduction by convenors
11:15-11:45	Yurie Hara, Waseda University (invited speaker) From settledness to unsettledness: A diachronic change of causality and conditionality in Japanese
11:50-12:20	Constanze Fleczonek, Leibniz University Hannover Causal clauses in Old High German
12:25-12:55	Lunch
Session II – Chair: Constanze Fleczonek
13:00-13:30	Elly van Gelderen, Arizona State University (invited speaker) The grammaticalization of causal clauses in English
13:35-14:05	Alexander Bergs, Osnabrück University Because, weil, porque : Tracing the diachrony of ‘new’ causal conjunctions
14:10-14:40	Melitta Gillmann, University of Hamburg Grammaticalization of the German subjunctive da ‘since’ in 17th/18th century corpora
14:45-15:15	Łukasz Jędrzejowski, University of Cologne On the diachrony of causal jako-że -clauses in Polish
15:15-15:45	Tea break
Session III – Chair: Łukasz Jędrzejowski
15:50-16:20	Augustin Speyer, Saarland University (invited speaker) Searching factors for the embedding of causal clauses in the history of German
16:25-16:55	Rodrigo Hernáiz, University of Barcelona Causal clauses as source for sentential complementation: Methodological issues
17:00-18:00	Plenary